Pfaue and Heuer new managing directors of Eurex Bonds

Gloria Pfaue and Andreas Heuer are to be the new managing directors of Eurex Bonds GmbH with effect from 1 July 2014. The Deutsche Börse subsidiary is an electronic trading platform for fixed-income securities and treasury discount papers between banks. Eurex is a leading trading platform for German government bonds. Business administration graduate Pfaue has been an consultant for Eurex Bonds since 2010. Prior to that, she was responsible for the German-speaking region at EuroMTS in London, and spent over ten years in various specialist and management roles at the Unicredit Group. Business graduate Heuer spent 14 years in various management positions within Deutsche Börse Group, where he in parallel heads the Market Analytics Cash section.

The previous managing director Dr Johannes Weßling is stepping down as he has opted to join an early retirement program and Marcel Naas due to general supervisory requirements. Naas remains managing director of Eurex Repo GmbH.
