Since September 2002, Eurex offers with the Advanced Simulation Environment an alternative testing facility in addition to the Permanent Simulation Environment. In contrast to the Permanent Simulation Environment the Advanced Simulation Environment constantly mirrors the current production software version and features access times of almost 24 hours each day.

To further enhance the access to the Advanced Simulation Environment for market participants and Software Vendors, Eurex will offer a new Release Simulation Package from 2005 onwards. This Release Simulation Package allows access to the Advanced Simulation Environment only when there is a Eurex release simulation in the Permanent Simulation Environment.

For the usage of the Release Simulation Package a one-off setup fee of 1,500 euro and a charge of 6,000 euro per location and calendar year will be applied regardless of the number of Eurex releases.

The adjusted contract is available on the Eurex website in the restricted member section under the following path:

www.eurexchange.com > Member Section > Software Releases > Simulation Environments > Advanced Simulation.
