Daily Simulation Digest in the Internet

Dear Sir or Madam,

Today, Monday 25, 2002, the simulation of the Central Counterparty for Equities was successfully launched.

To provide you with the most recent information on a timely basis, we have set up a separate area in the closed user group "Members only/CCP" on the CCP webpage under www.xetra.de. The "Simulation Digest" will continuously provide important information during simulation hours, e.g. regarding system availability. Should any questions related to simulation processing arise during simulation time, we kindly invite you to refer to this page as initial information source.

Additionally, a summary of the respective simulation day will be provided in this section. We wish all members smooth and successful progress throughout the CCP Simulation.
