Xetra® Release 6.5 July 4, 2002
Replacement of the GATE.dll Library on Windows 2000 MISSes

Dear Sir or Madam,

In the current version of Xetra Release 6.5, delays have been found to occur occasionally in the production environment - exclusively under Windows 2000 –, for example in the processing of broadcasts on the MISS.

To correct this problem, we will be providing you with the file GATE.dll for production, which should replace the version currently installed on the Windows 2000 MISSes.

We strongly recommend replacing the GATE.dll file on all Windows 2000 MISSes. Replacement on Windows NT MISSes is not required, but may be carried out. Please be aware that the Xetra BESS must be halted before the file is replaced. After the replacement, please re-start the Xetra BESS.

The file will be distributed to the report nodes the evening of July 5, 2002 via file transfer, after the close of trading. Forwarding the file to other MISSes remains within the responsibility of the members.

The file will be sent to your transfer directory. From there, it should be copied to the corresponding final destination directory on all Windows 2000 MISSes, replacing the previous version.

The transfer directories are:

SUN: /opt/gate/transferdir/release52/sun/
Windows: <ftp-root directory>\release52\win

The final destination directory is <GATE-Drive>\opt\gate\base90\bin.

To enable the data transfer, please ensure that the MISSes of your production environment are up and running the evening of July 5, 2002. Please also make sure that the read and write permissions for files and folders are set correctly.

Deutsche Börse will monitor the status of the file transmission. Should transmission problems occur, Deutsche Börse will automatically launch a second transmission on the following day.

If you transfer the file via FTP (e. g. from a SUN Report MISS to a Windows 2000 MISS), please be aware that the file transfer must performed in the binary mode.

The GATE.dll file will also be posted on the Internet for download.
